USDA Suspends Virginia Dealer's PACA License

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports that Sherwood Hansford Jones, trading as Sherwood H. Jones, Rural Retreat, Va., has failed to pay a reparation award issued under the Perishable Agricultural Commodities Act.

As a result, Jones' PACA license was suspended at the close of business on May 15 by USDA. Beverly's Inc., Pahokee, Fla., complained to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service that Jones failed to pay $205 for mixed vegetables purchased in interstate commerce.

The Agricultural Marketing Service says Jones did not answer the charges. USDA then ordered payment of the full amount claimed due, plus interest, through default proceedings.

The Agricultural Marketing Service says Sherwood Hansford Jones is not entitled to conduct business under the PACA Act until the reparation award is satisfied and the license suspension is lifted. Further, he cannot be employed by another PACA licensee without the approval of the Agricultural Marketing Service.

The PAC Act establishes a code of good business conduct for the produce industry. As a means of enforcing that code, the act requires that interstate traders in fresh and frozen fruits and vegetables be licensed. The Agricultural Marketing Service is authorized to suspend or revoke a trader's license for violating the act.

F. Stein Appointed To FCD Two-County Dev. Committee

Two successful Palm Beach County businessmen, both with an avid interest in outdoor sports, are joining the Palm Beach-Broward Counties Recreational Development Committee.

Jack Horner of Palm Beach announced the appointment of Fritz Stein of Belle Glade and Chester Pike of West Palm Beach to the two-county committee which advises the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District. Horner, Vice Chairman of the FCD Governing Board, organized the committee in January, 1962.

Mr. Stein was educated at schools in Belle Glade and was graduated from the University of Florida at Gainesville with a degree in agriculture. His family has farmed in the Glades since 1915 and he continues to direct farming operations including vegetables, sugar cane, and beef cattle.

A veteran of the U. S. Army, Mr. Stein saw duty in Mexico, Germany, in 1954 and 1955. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Belle Glade. His favorite hobbies are fishing and hunting.

Mr. Stein is married, has three sons and a daughter, and makes his home in Belle Glade.

The new committee members accompanied the Palm Beach-Broward Counties organization last Wednesday on a field trip and outdoor meeting into the Everglades of FCD Conservation Area 2 departing from Johnnie's Fish Camp on the east side of U. S. Highway 27, a mile-and-a-half north of Andytown, Broward County.

Mr. Stein and Mr. Pike replace two of the three members of the Palm Beach-Broward group who have recently resigned. Horner announced that Hall Allen and Bill Copland of West Palm Beach, and William Wright of North Palm Beach have resigned after nearly two years of service.

The Palm Beach-Broward committee is assisting the Flood Control District in the development of more and better boat ramps, picnic areas, campsites and concessions located in and around FCD canals and water storage areas.

Vacation Plans All In Order? Give Your Home Every Protection!

Florida Police Chiefs Association estimates 200,000 burglaries were committed throughout the country last year. This means that a burglary was committed about every 25 seconds day and night every day of the year. During the coming months, the burglary rate will possibly increase directly proportional to the number of persons taking vacations and the degree of carelessness with which they leave their homes unprotected.

The Association has recommended some basic precautions that can be taken by all homeowners to assist their police officials during the coming months. They are:

1. Make sure all doors and windows are securely locked.
2. Tilt your venetian blinds on the ground level of your home so that persons approaching your house or ringing the doorbell can not look in.
3. During evening hours make your home look "lived-in" by leaving a light burn. Automatic timers, connected to a lamp, can accomplish this ruse every evening when you are away.
4. Keep your garage doors closed. An empty garage is a sure give-away of your absence.

5. Notify your nearest neighbor of your leaving, and, if possible, leave a key with him so he can check your home periodically.

Arrange to have milk deliveries discontinued and your newspaper subscriptions to follow your daily newspaper absence.

And, a most important point is to notify your local police department when you are leaving and when you expect to return.

Many police bureaus maintain card files containing information on vacationing residents. This enables them to make periodic checks on homes and investigate any irregularities.

Remember, the house and property you're helping to protect this summer—is your own!

Witnesses Enjoy 3-Day Assembly

Belle Glade delegates have returned home from a three-day assembly by Jehovah's witnesses held in Orlando, Florida, delegates from 17 central Florida congregations attended the assembly and participated in the program of activities.

The witnesses provided for their needs by means of 22 volunteer service departments. Belle Glade delegates helped out in these departments and took part in the program. Mr. Miles P. Crum, local presiding minister, was in charge of the Lost and Found Department, a very active place where large groups of people gather.

Fridays' activities consisted of a model Ministry School and Service Meeting at which Bible talks were given and instruction was received from Mr. Joseph Sauer, minister, lecturer and traveling supervisor of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

New ministers were baptized Saturday afternoon. Crum said, "When we make a dedication it is no trivial, frivolous thing. When dedication is concerned, Ecclesiastes 6:4, 5 applies. When we dedicate ourselves to Jehovah God we are making a vow to serve him for life. Dedication to Him brings responsibility just as knowledge does, so shirkers of responsibility and of the Word of God are not dedicating themselves to Jehovah. Unlike brute beasts of the field, man is the only creature that can worship God from the heart and with an intelligent mind. He can set himself apart by a solemn vow, undressfully and unconditionally, to do the will of Jehovah God. This dedication is voluntary, based on knowledge and not emotion."

Highlight for Sunday was a keynote speech by Mr. Sauer on the subject, FACING UP TO THE URGENCY OF OUR TIMES. Crum, spokesman for the Belle Glade group of Jehovah's witnesses, quoted Mr. Sauer as saying, "The pressures of widespread immorality, materialism, increasing national disturbances coupled with fear of nuclear war and disbelief of the coming 'war of the great day of God the Almighty' make our times urgent times."

Area Adventists At Convention

Thousands of Seventh-day Adventists from all over Florida attended the opening service this weekend at their annual camp meeting on the grounds of Forest Lake Academy, Forest City. They are hearing denational leaders speak on Bible doctrines and prophecy, on church activities, and on personal Christian experience. They are visiting with old friends, and making new ones, enjoying the old camp meeting of the Nineteenth Century, but is a new setting and with many modern conveniences.

The keynote speaker for the eight-day convocation opening Friday, June 5, is R. A. Anderson, of Washington, D. C. executive secretary of the Adventists' Ministerial Association of which every minister of the church throughout the world is a member.

Among those attending from this area, some for the weekend and others remaining the entire camping period are Mrs. T. G. Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook and children, Mrs. Belle Glade, and Mrs. Floyd Erickson, of Canal Point. Dr. George Randolph and family, Mrs. Bill Norman, George Messer, of Clewiston, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Byrd, South Bay.

About 1500 people are living on the camp grounds throughout the meeting, in tents, cabins, trailers, and in the dormitories of the boarding high school of the church.

H. H. Schmidt, president of the Adventists' Florida Conference is general chairman of the convocation, with a corps of about 60 assisting in the organization and direction of the activities.

South Bay Baptist To Have Picnic Sunday

The First Baptist Church of South Bay will have "Church Wide Picnic" at Bardin Park between Belle Glade and Pahokee on Sunday afternoon after the morning worship services. All members of the church and friends are encouraged to bring their dinner in picnic style and enjoy the fellowship with other church members and friends. The church will be furnishing the beverage of tea and soft drinks and paper plates and napkins for those attending. The afternoon picnic will adjourn in time for the Vacation Bible School Commencement to be held at the church at 7:45 p. m. Whatever it is your duty to do, you can do without harm to yourself.

Youthful Missionaries Tell Story Of Latter Day Saint (Mormon) Church

Two young men in our area, one from Scottsdale, Arizona and the other from Roseville, California are devoting two years of their lives to voluntary work as missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (often referred to as the Mormon Church). Elder Ronald G. Wright of Scottsdale, Arizona and Elder Gerald L. Harris of Roseville, California may be seen almost any day on the streets of Belle Glade or making home calls talking with people, explaining their religious beliefs, and in many cases expelling misconceptions concerning the restored Church of Jesus Christ.

Elders Wright and Harris are a trite portion of the vast worldwide missionary program of their Church, and are only two of over 12,000 full time, unpaid, missionaries that encompass the entire earth teaching what they know to be true.

A missionary's term averages two years wherever English is spoken and two and a half years where a foreign language must be learned. Their work is supervised and mainly directed from Salt Lake City, Utah.

After the mission is completed, the member returns to his normal occupation, school or work to pursue his daily livelihood and others are called to carry on the missionary work.

Elders Wright and Harris are presently working with the rapidly growing congregation here in Belle Glade of which J. K. Davis is Branch President. Their congregation of over 100 members and only a small part of 2,000,000 members throughout the world, meets each Sunday at 8:00 N. E. Ave. A with services held at 10:00 A. M. and 7:00 P. M. Additional activities for the young people between 4 and 12 are held on Tuesday at 3:30 p. m.

Because there is no paid ministry in the Church, Elders Wright and Harris are not soliciting funds or attempting to sell anything. Their main purpose is to further acquaint people with the basic beliefs of their organization. They consider it a privilege to bring this message to the people of Belle Glade and trust that they will have the opportunity of explaining the teachings of the restoration further as they contact the homes.

They are also available for religious or civic speaking engagements and can be contacted at 62415 So. Main here in Belle Glade, or by calling 996-3323.

Pledge Service, Installation Of Officers Held By W.S.C.S.

Two special events were observed when the Woman's Society of Christian Service of Community Methodist Church held its General Meeting on Tuesday evening. At this meeting the members made their pledges and the Society Officers for the new year were installed.

The Pledge Service program was entitled, "The Sea of Giving." The sea of giving was carried out this theme with shells, nets, and other gifts from the sea arranged around a tall golden cross. The Star Circle was in charge of the program with Mrs. W. R. Boland, Mrs. Bettie Harris, Miss Vida Hardest, Mrs. Frank Morris, Mrs. Ruby Schoenfeld, Mrs. Alyce Huebner, and Mrs. Lorene Phillips taking part.

Mrs. Robert C. Abel, retiring president, thanked the Society for the help and cooperation given her during her term of office. Mrs. Abel recognized the new members of the Society and presented Baby Membership Certificates to the mother of the babies born during this year.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Special Membership Pin to the member chosen by the Committee as having been outstanding during the year in her service to the local Woman's Society. Mrs. F. C. Schoenfeld received this honor for this year.

Rev. W. R. Boland installed the officers for the coming year, assisted by Mrs. R. C. Abel. Each officer received a miniature apron with a miniature Bible attached, representing the "Mary and Martha" that each good officer should be — working hard for the Society wherever her office may take her, yet not neglecting the spiritual aspects of prayer, meditation and Bible reading.

Free as a Bird

No worries, no responsibilities! A lot of us would gladly trade places with Wendy, just to share that wonderful "joy of living" that children feel so often, and adults experience so rarely.

"But what is there to be happy about?" you may be thinking. "Maybe Wendy has no worries, but I certainly have!"

Perhaps we forget that this world is in God's hands . . . and that, with God, nothing is impossible. We wear ourselves out seeking human solutions to our problems, when Divine help is always available if we will only ask.

Try it. Try bringing your worries and doubts to God this Sunday in your neighborhood Church. Hear God's promise of guidance and comfort for all who will give their lives to him in childlike trust. And let the Holy Spirit fill your troubled heart with lasting joy.

Congressman Rogers Tells Fla. Vets "Main Tide Turning Against Castro"

Congressman Paul Rogers (D-Fla.) told the Florida State Convention of the American Legion in Jacksonville that the tide was turning in Latin America against Fidel Castro.

"Latin feelings as shown by Brazil's overthrow of Joao Goulart and Venezuela's movement to isolate Cuba through further sanctions in the Organization of American States shows us the entire hemisphere is behind U. S. policy," the Congressman from West Palm Beach told the Legionaires.

Rogers then called for increased American pressure upon U. S. allies shipping to Cuba. He singled out Great Britain as the most flagrant violator of American policy in the Caribbean. Armed with facts and figures, Congressman Rogers showed how Britain's decision to renew large scale trade activities with communist Cuba has lessened the burden of support Soviet Russia must provide for maintaining the "cancer of the Caribbean."

Congressman Rogers then pointed out that the United States' armed might has never been greater in America's peacetime history. He stated that over the past three years Army combat divisions had been increased 45 per cent, that the U. S. now has 18 Polaris equipped missile firing submarines, and that there has been an increase of 620 per cent in the number of operational intercontinental ballistic missiles since 1961.

"This significant increase in U. S. military strength is precisely what keeps the communist world from direct confrontation with the U. S.," the Florida Congressman said. "It is this same military superiority coupled with the economic failure of such communist system as we see in Cuba, which is the tide turning in Latin America."

Widows and Orphans Of World War II Eligible For Pensions From V. A.

Medvin T. Dixon, Director of the Department of Veterans Affairs, stated today that more than three years after the law was passed, many widows and orphans of World War II and the Korean conflict veterans are unaware of their eligibility to pension paid by the Veterans Administration.

Before July 1, 1960, Widows and children of World War II or Korean conflict veterans were left during the weekend for Eustis, where they will stay while Mr. Livingston is in the corn harvesting business in the area of Apopka and Zellwood.

Rev. Madison W. Sindle entertained to pension only if the deceased had a service-connected disability at the time of his death. Beginning on that date in Public Law 86-211, Congress provided pensions for the widows and orphans of these veterans on equal basis with the pensions granted to World War I Veterans' widow and orphans.

It is no longer necessary for the veteran to have had a service-connected disability.

The pensions range from $25 to $60 monthly for widows. For each child, $15 per month is added. The pension for orphans is $25 monthly. The benefit may be payable to the Veteran's child, or child's even though the widow is not entitled to the pension because she remarried or her income or net worth exceeds certain limits.

Have you ever seen 7,000 grown men cry? You'd think success would make them happy, but ever since Mustang came out, seven thousand Ford Dealers all over the country have been weeping and wringing their hands. They can't get as many Mustangs as they would like. All this would upset us, too, except it's happened to us before. You see, this was the hottest sales year in Ford Division history ever before Mustang came out. At the beginning of the model-year, dealers couldn't get enough of our big, hot Super Torque Ford Hardtops (sales up 54%)... or Luxurious Thunderbirds (sales up 66%). Falcon sales are almost as big as Chevy II and Valiant combined. Fairlane continues to be a leader in its field. So, even though some people would like us to put all our plants to work on Mustang, we can't let down our hundreds of thousands of Ford, Thunderbird, Falcon and Fairlane lovers. Why don't you come see what all the shouting's about? Ask your Ford Dealer for a test drive. (You might even get him to smile.)

Court Of Awards

Troop No. 281 of Junior Girl Scouts met in Jameson Hall on Tuesday night, June 2nd, for their annual Court of Awards. The flag ceremony was conducted by the Gifford patrol with Kathleen Murphy as the leader. After the pledge of allegiance and the Girl Scout Promise, the Flintstone patrol with Cathy Carlton as leader, led the group in Girl Scout songs.

ing the dance a skit, a satire of school, was presented by the Flintstone patrol. The program of the evening was then presented by the Eagle patrol with Janis Kidder as leader. An impressive candle-lighting service was conducted by the girls lighting three candles for the Promise and one for each of the ten laws. Candidates must be presently enrolled in a 4-H Club or be a 4-H alumnae. Application should be made to the state 4-H Club leader accompanied by 4-H and scholastic records.

Also required is a statement, telling why the applicant is interested in home economics as a major course of study, and need for financial assistance to complete her junior and senior years.

More than 2 million home economics projects are completed annually by 4-H Club members, according to figures released by the Federal Extension Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Private surveys reveal that over the years hundreds of young women attribute success in home economics careers to early 4-H training. Many are teachers, others are affiliated with business and scores are busily engaged in being full-time wives and mothers having that "special" know-how gained in college studies.

Business concerns providing these 4-H home economics scholarship funds are: Sunbeam Corporation, Chicago; The Sperry and Hutchinson Company, New York; The West Bend Company, West Bend, Wis.; and Pyrofax Gas Corporation, New York.

Each sponsor provides the college scholarships through the National 4-H Service Committee with the Cooperative Extension Service designating the recipients. More information can be obtained from the State 4-H Club office.

"Snow White And Seven Dwarf s" Presented by Girl Scouts

Shown in the final act is the Prince portrayed by Michelle Chapman, bending over Snow White, Pam Whitlock. In are the dwarfs: Dayle Luce, Donna Rashley, Nancy Wolf, Debbie Reynolds, Judy Weston, Gayle Luce, Sandy Sprinkle.

The end of the year activities of Cadette Troop 264 was highlighted with a performance of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" which was enjoyed by audience and cast alike. In fact it was such an outstanding success, it was repeated by request for the first grade classes in the elementary cafeteria recently. At their meeting following the presentation, the scouts thoroughly enjoyed thank-you letters from the first graders. Each letter was accompanied by a drawing of something in the play, which the pupil had especially liked.

All thirty girls in the troop worked together on the play as part of the requirements for the Stevenson, Deborah Wedgworth, Player-Producer badge. The cast wrote their own script and everyone helped in painting the "Snow White" scenery panels which were given to the troop. While each girl was responsible for her own costume, scouts and leaders pooled ideas and materials for the final effect. Those not in the speaking cast served as narrator, announcer, prompter, between scene shifts and "commercials," and handled the major "props" and arrangements for production and staging.

The cast included Cathy Battle, Michele Chapman, Barbara Dexter, Jeannie Harris, Sharon Hayes, Kathryn Smith, Patty

DARRY WOOD, LEFT, POW-WOW SPONSOR, dressed in Sioux ceremonial costume and standing next to Billy Bowlegs III. At far right is Glenn Wolf, active in local Indian lore and Boy Scout groups; he is wearing a Seminole Costume such as worn by Billy Bowlegs I, during the second Seminole War period 1830-1840.

WELCOMING GUESTS TO INDIAN POW-WOW Darry Wood, Bill Partridge, Billy Bowlegs, Jack Billie, and David Jumper, Mikasuki Indian who recently broke several state high school track records.

Co-sponsoring this colorful assemblage, known as the "TWO BROTHERS INDIAN POW-WOW" were two college students who have been doing this sort of thing for a long time — Darry Wood of Belle Glade, a student at Florida State University and William Partridge from Miami, a student at the University of Florida. They met years ago at a Boy Scout Jamboree and have been close friends ever since. They are members of the same college fraternity and have been doing professional Indian dancing since they were in high school.

"This was just a little pow-wow this year," Darry said. "That's the way we wanted it — a few white dancers some horses, and several of our more distinguished Indian friends. Eventually, we would like to bring in the professional Indians from Oklahoma and other western states who now live in Florida, and also attract the dozens of fine white dancers on the west coast and in North Florida." In the future, with advance publicity, we could draw a larger crowd, charge admission, and go somewhere with lights to get out of the daytime heat. I think we could easily clear our expenses and start a scholarship fund for some deserving Seminole young person."

When the afternoon spectators had diminished, the "pow-wows" were entertained by the guitars and folk songs of Bill Partridge and his young brother, Ed. It was a relaxing change from the pounding drums and sleigh bells of the earlier dancing and singing, and was a pleasant finish for a memorable Memorial Day.

Rivalry Produced Our Flag

The rivalry between two women sparked the making of the first model American flag. Contrary to popular belief, Betsy Ross was not the first woman of the Revolutionary War period to gain fame for her flag-making abilities. Rebecca Young, also a Philadelphia seamstress, made the Continental Army's battle flag, the "Grand Union Flag" in 1775 which was later used as the basis for the design of Betsy Ross' model flag that was presented to Congress for approval.

Free Enterprise

THE MEANING OF FREE ENTERPRISE

FREE ENTERPRISE has nothing to do with politics, or wealth, or business, or class. It is a way of living in which you and I, as individuals, are important. Many little things make up this way of life — but think what we would lose if we ever surrender it!

FREE ENTERPRISE is the right to open a gas station, or a grocery store, or to buy a farm — if you want to be your own boss — or to change your job if you don't like the man you are working for.

FREE ENTERPRISE is the right to look your door at night.

FREE ENTERPRISE is the right to argue.

FREE ENTERPRISE is the right to save money if you wish, or blow it all on a good time if that is what you want to do.

FREE ENTERPRISE is looking on a policeman as someone to protect you; a judge as someone to help you.

FREE ENTERPRISE is the right to speak freely about anything you wish, at any time you wish, to anyone you wish to speak to.

FREE ENTERPRISE has nothing to do with how much money you have — or don't have; nor what your job is, or is not.

FREE ENTERPRISE means the right to be yourself instead of some nameless number in a horde bossed by a few despots.

FREE ENTERPRISE is the sum of many little things but how miserable we'd be if someone stole it from us.

"I Am An American!"

By John Edgar Hoover

IS A POISONOUS BACTERIA being injected into the vital bloodstream of the American way of life? Are citizens being subjected to tranquilizing doses of subtle ridicule and calculated defiance of constituted authority, law, and order?

These questions loom particularly important at the moment because June is a time of hope and anticipation for thousands of American young people. Many high school and college graduates leave the cloistered atmosphere of homes and educational institutions and move into the ranks of our workaday society. We hear a great deal about their adaptability and whether they are prepared to cope with this significant milestone in life. Not much concern, however, is evidenced over society's preparation to receive them. We might well ask ourselves if we have fully acquainted them with the time-honored principles which have made America great.

Actually, graduating seniors should have no questions as to the greatness of our way of life. But as we know, some do have questions. We do not and should not isolate and shield them from theories and ideologies which we believe to be contrary to the best interests of our country. As growing boys and girls, they have been exposed to the dubious themes running through much of entertainment, movies, television, radio, literature, art, and theater which often depicts our orderly processes as inept, incompetent, and out of step with the times. This trend comes close to undermining the concepts and ideals on which our Nation was founded; and even in those instances when the age-old battle of "right versus wrong" is presented, "right," though usually victorious, is often tainted.

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:

They was a number of items in the papers last week that I aim to put on the agenda at the country store come Saturday night.

First off, Congressman Neal Smith of Iowa keeps plugging on his bill to make it unlawful for Government officials, including members of the Congress, to hire their kinfolks. This is a bad bill and I'm shore the feller will vote again it unanimous Saturday night. It would cut the population of Washington in half. Our "prestige" in them foreign countries would take a big dip if it got out that folks was deserting our nation's capital. It might even get us throwed out of the United Nations and we wouldn't have the honor of making up that $52 million Russia owes in back dues and which they say they ain't going to pay.

Then they was a couple want ads in the papers that might call for some discussion amongst the fellers. The police department in Dayton, Ohio, was advertising a second-hand tombstone for sale. They said it was a good buy for "a person named Murphy." I'd say offhand that I'll still sell to somebody named Jones or Smith if they'll put it on sale for a dollar down and a dollar a week.

And a woman in Louisville was asking the Judge for a divorce on account of a want ad her husband ran in the papers. The ad said, "FOR SALE, complete set of reference books Never been used. My wife knows it all." I ain't saw yet how the Judge ruled in the case but I'm shore the feller Saturday night will hold her the husband.

But some husbands, Mister Editor, can say real mean things about their wives. I recollect reading here a while back where this feller's old lady weighed 200 pounds and went on a diet and was losing 5 pounds a week. He told around town that he hoped she would keep it up for 40 weeks and he would git rid of her complete.

Some folks has a knack for evil talk and Bug Hookum is one of the best. I heard Bug say once he had a neighbor with buck teeth so bad he could eat corn on the cob through a screen door. I figured at the time that when it come to low-rating a neighbor, this just about put the stopper in the jug. But the very next week Bug allowed as how he was fencing in his pig on account of not wanting them to associate with his neighbor's kids. Bug ain't never been able to git along with his neighbors

Your Library

If the following seem pretty of his discovery that truth is not solid fare for June, just remember that it is possible to escape grass cutting, and any number of other exertions, in the confines of an easy chair.

The Naked Society, Vance Packard.

The forty wire taps in our Embassy in Moscow have their counterparts in the U. S. If Vance Packard's new book is right, invasions of private rights with practiced techniques, are carried on by government, industry, and even educational institutions. In the name of efficiency. In the encroachments have been allowed to snowball.

Bedrooms and offices are bugged. Personality tests go into intimate detail in the schools. Bank accounts are checked, mail is examined before delivery, and phones are enclosed in martinis, with toothpick antennas. This book will likely arouse more indignation than any of the author's previous ones. He sets out to win public opinion for his fight against the probing eyes and ears to which the public is subject. His indignation is contagious, and well directed; Vance Packard may well become crusade commander.

The Married, Richard Kim.

Set during the Korean War, shortly after the ROK army occupied Pyongyang, this is the story of a South Korean Captain, young enough to believe that truth must be honored regardless of cost. The beginning always easily recognized begins when fourteen Christian ministers are rounded up, and all but two are shot.

Mystery surrounds one of these two, an elderly minister who first denies he was present at the execution, then draws the wrath upon him when he declares he was. The Communists were not known for their compassion, and suspicion was directed at any they chose to spare.

The author is a Korean, now teaching English in a California college.

When The Cheering Stopped, Gene Smith.

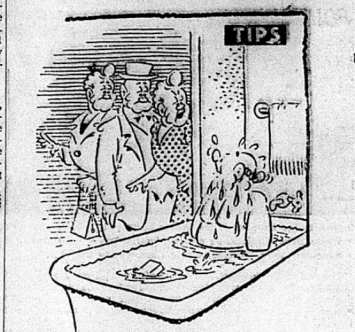

When Woodrow Wilson suffered a stroke in 1919 the cheering for a statesman stopped, and embarrassed silence grew into rumbling tones of indignation. This narrative, which goes into great detail, is a reminder of how much more tragic than fiction real life can be.

It is a reminder, too, of the strides in communication since that catastrophe when the country was kept in the dark, fed on rumour in the press and radio coverage.

His second wife literally carried on the government, with some assistance from Dr. Cary Grayson, and for a while from the President's secretary, Joseph Tumulty. Tumulty's role, on the background, was tragic, too.

National sympathy gradually returned for the ex-president, who retired to a home on S. Street in Washington. A stern Scotch Presbyterian, whose refusal to compromise was a real U. S. entry into the League of Nations was not ratified, he retained the devoted adoration of his wife, and the admiration of public who remembered the statesman before his physical fall.

June 12 2-Car Families Set New Record

Nearly nine million families now own two or more cars, the American Automobile Association reports.

"This means that 13.6 per cent of all families are now in the multi-car category," said William B. Welles, Director of Traffic and Safety for the Eastern Division. "The number of such households has more than doubled in nine years."

"The growth in multiple-car ownership is a reflection of the increased number of families living in the suburbs. Forecasts that this trend to suburban living will continue to rise in the years ahead point to the conclusion that multiple car ownership will show a corresponding gain."

Learn Water Sports For Water Spots
Water sports are popular in Florida the year around, but particularly so in the summer. Before you go near the water, it is well to be fortified with a knowledge of water safety rules, advises A. M. Pettit, agricultural engineer, Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

The primary rule is to know how to swim if you are going for any type of water sport or activity. Learn to float, so you can rest in the water. Pettit emphasizes. If you're just learning to swim, stay away from water over your head and don't go near deep water after dark.

Be sure to know the area where you swim. Always swim with others, never alone. Learn how to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation.

If an electrical storm comes up, don't hesitate to get out of the water immediately. When you swim with groups, use the buddy system. Always wear a life preserver when boating or skiing.

Pettit recommends swimming as one of the healthiest and most enjoyable types of recreation provided you follow common sense rules of safety.
